

Assessment Materials Instruction Sheet

Please find included assessment materials provided to you by Millennium Management LLC (Millennium).

Failure to comply with these guidelines will result in the termination of our process with you.

Please note that these materials are being provided to you on a confidential basis and you may not share these materials with anyone other than authorized staff at Millennium.

When completing the requested assessment, you MAY NOT use any of your current firm's resources, systems or materials. For example, this means you MAY NOT:

- Access your firm's subscription services. This includes without limitation Bloomberg, Thomson Reuters, or any other data or information services.
- Rely upon any resources that are accessible to you or provided to your current firm, even if those resources are provided to your firm gratis or free of charge. This includes without limitation sell-side research or other materials provided to you by commercial partners or counterparties of your firm.
- Access your firm's internet browsers or other systems that may access publicly available information to assist you in completing the assessment.
- Transfer, send or remove information or materials from your firm's systems or offices to assist you in completing the assessment.

Included in the materials we are providing you are certain research reports and other analytical information (collectively, "information"). This information is being provided to you solely for your use in connection with completing the assessment. You MAY NOT reproduce, redistribute or otherwise use outside of our process, this information and must delete all copies of this information following completion of the assessment.

When completing the requested assessment, you MAY:

- Request additional materials from Millennium to assist you in completing the assessment.
- Access publicly available information from your personal internet connection or other publicly available resources separate and apart from your firm's systems and offices.

Please complete and return to Millennium the Attestation Form contained in Appendix II along with any assessment materials.

Appendix I: Mock Portfolio Exercises

To the extent that you've been asked to perform a "Mock Portfolio Exercise" as part of the requested assessment, the following guidelines must be adhered to.

When completing a Mock Portfolio Exercise, you MAY NOT include any issuers that you currently invest in, or advise investment in, for your current firm. Additionally, you MAY NOT include any information regarding positions, position sizing, or trading.

For example, this means you MAY NOT:

- Include any issuers in your Mock Portfolio Exercise that you are currently involved in investing in or advising investment in for your current firm.
- Provide any position or position sizing information (e.g. – long/short X number of shares or Y percent of portfolio, etc.).
- Provide any trading related information (e.g. – timing of entry/exit of positions).

When completing the requested assessment, you MAY:

- Provide a list of issuers that are not subject to the prohibition above.
- Provide an assessment of investments (e.g. – bullish or bearish) and a conviction of that assessment (e.g. – high or low).
- Provide a high level summary or notes supporting that assessment (e.g. – "overvalued relative to peers", "undervalued on sales multiple", etc.).

Appendix II: Attestation Form

I attest that I have read, understood, and complied with the requirements of Millennium's Assessment Materials Instruction Sheet.
